

ALVÒLO

ALVÒLO: Orders, delivery & collect in one app

It's time to order!

 ZUCCHETTI

HIGHLIGHTS

-  360° integrability with POS systems
-  Independent menu management
-  Any smart payment accepted
-  Cost-reduction
-  Integration with social media

ALVòLO is The Zucchetti solution for home delivery and take-away service, available for Android and Apple iOS devices. ALVòLO simplifies the management of restaurants that offer their customers the convenience of orders via smartphone and allows the restaurateur to receive orders independently, both for pick-up at the point of sale and for delivery.

ALVòLO is the independent app that allows you to receive your orders in total autonomy, both for pick-up at the point of sale and for delivery.

Everything you need for your customers

Scanning the QR code identification of your restaurant, your customers will find themselves directly on the of the menu, without wasting time searching for you among your competitors. They will be able to see descriptions and photos, choose the variants on each course, the mode of pick-up and delivery, and the payment method.

Natively integrated, born independent

ALVòLO was born as a standalone solution designed to manage menus, photos, and orders directly from the app in use to the restaurateur. But it does not end here: ALVòLO is also natively integrated with the main POS software and the most modern payment systems. Choose if you want to charge by cash, or smart payments like Paypal, Google Pay, Apple Pay, Satispay. And yes, the 'old-fashioned' credit card is still valid.

ZERO commissions, ZERO restraints

ALVòLO does not burden your business neither with commissions or percentages on the sale nor with recharges on delivery. ALVòLO allows you to receive your order and manage it as you prefer. No matter how many orders you place, the fee does not increase and helps you grow your digital business.

Starter Kit: business promotion on the fly

ALVòLO provides you with all the material to promote your new sales model both at the physical point of sale and on digital channels. Facebook cover, template for your posts on Instagram, badge for your website. It will be even faster to convince your customers to place ALVòLO orders.

Know your customers

With ALVòLO you can automatically recognize the customer's phone number with a device connected to the landline or via Android smartphone. The operator can enter and store personal data and any notes, such as indications on the doorbell or dangerous animals in the garden, that will be printed on the delivery note.

Always on time!

Once a new order is entered - or one of the last orders made by the customer is quickly selected - the system automatically checks the feasibility (e.g. number of pizzas, number of deliveries) according to the desired time, calculates any additional delivery service, communicates the amount of the order to the customer, sends the production and delivery summary to the printer.

Geolocalization

By reading a barcode printed on the summary you can check the preview of the route on Google Maps (so you can monitor the traffic in real time and choose the best road) and then proceed with the matching with the delivery man. Then, the delivery man can start automatically, and the system stores the name and time of exit, nothing is left to chance and the whole process is streamlined and efficient.